

RAVE ON!

What People Are Saying...

Procell delivers blues harp and commanding vocals...(he) know(s) how to strike a chord to connect with the listener and deliver a message in blues that you won't soon forget.

Linda Cain-Chicago Blues Guide

Derrick Procell has an amazingly gritty voice... just so damn soulful. (His) stuff is smart, creative and yet as deeply soulful as any.

Jim Hynes-Elmore Magazine

Derrick Procell is every bit the Real Deal...an incredible storyteller.

Bill Wilson-Reflections in Blue

Procell is pure Blues goodness!

Gary Schwind-AXS

Procell can truly sing up a storm.

Mike Greenblatt-Classicalite

Procell is an old soul...and his music....transports his listener to a different place and time.

Professor Johnny P's Juke Joint

Derrick Procell is a multi-talented musician and songwriter.

Blue Monday Monthly

Derrick has a great blues voice, quite like Gregg Allman or Delbert McClinton...

John Mitchell-Crossroads Blues Society

Derrick Procell is a very pleasant surprise...with his deep bluesy voice and tight backing band...

Philip Verhaege-Keys and Chords

...it's his voice and the songs that sell the record, with the former a soulful delight.

Review Roundup-The Rocker

I think Who Will Tell Lucille should be on the Blues Music Awards ballot for best written song.
